Professional Community Management of California, Inc. raises money for United Way

Contribution exceeds $50,000

LAKE FOREST, Calif. (Dec. 11, 2007) – Professional Community Management of California, Inc., one of the nation’s largest managers of homeowner associations raised more than $50,000 from its employees to contribute to United Way.

The week-long, annual campaign kicked off with a presentation by a representative from Court Appointed Special Advocates, a nonprofit organization that provides intervention and advocacy services to abused and neglected children in Orange County. CASA is one of many United Way-funded agencies that provide services to the community.

During the campaign, PCM offered its employees the choice to pledge cash amounts or utilize payroll withholding, where a requested amount from each paycheck is donated to the United Way fund. PCM held drawings for incentive prizes each day and an online silent auction, with all proceeds benefiting United Way.

“PCM has always been a company that gives back to the communities it serves,” said Donny Disbro, vice president of business development and marketing for Professional Community Management of California. “We have a long history with United Way and we encourage our employees to get involved in any way they can.”

“United Way provides assistance to numerous families and individuals throughout our community,” added Disbro. “We are always willing to do what we can to assist its mission.”
