Professional Community Management of California, Inc. collects more than 1,000 items for South County Outreach

LAKE FOREST, Calif. (Dec. 17, 2007) – Professional Community Management of California, Inc., one of the nation’s largest managers of homeowner associations, recently collected more than 1,000 food, toys and personal hygiene items for South County Outreach. SCO is a nonprofit, nonsectarian organization that provides services for families and seniors throughout South Orange County.

PCM collected many of the organization’s much-needed items including canned and boxed goods, diapers, laundry detergent and personal hygiene items.

“This is Professional Community Management’s second year working with South County Outreach,” said Donny Disbro, vice president of business development and marketing for Professional Community Management of California. “We selected this organization to raise awareness of it and increase the amount of donations it receives.”

Each year more than 250 employees from Professional Community Management donate items to local charities. Last year PCM donated enough items to SCO to fill three vans.

“A large part of PCM’s corporate culture is giving back to the local community that we serve,” added Disbro. “Donating these much-needed items to families in our own region is important to us.”
