Donny Disbro of Professional Community Management of California, Inc. named to local industry board

PCM's Chief Executive Officer to serve on Orange County chapter for Building Industry Association of Southern California

LAKE FOREST, Calif., (Oct. 19, 2009)—Professional Community Management of California, Inc. (PCM), one of the nation's largest property management firms, announced today that chief executive officer, Donny Disbro, has been named as a board member for the Orange County chapter of the Building Industry Association of Southern California. With 12 years of industry experience, Disbro brings extensive knowledge of transitioning developer/builder board-governed communities to homeowner-governed communities. Disbro also will provide understanding of the overall discipline of post-construction property management.

As a board member for the Orange County chapter of Building Industry Association of Southern California, Disbro will be responsible for strategic planning for membership and budget goals along with participating in board self-evaluation programs. In addition, Disbro will attend board seminars and workshops and partner with other board members in fund raising efforts.

"I strongly believe the building industry needs solid relationships with those who sustain the communities that builders are developing. At PCM, we understand the importance of this relationship and foster it," state Donny Disbro, chief executive officer. "We work to protect builders because we recognize they often provide our jobs."

Donny holds a Master of Business Administration, which he completed in 2003 at Chapman University of Orange, Calif. Previously, Donny attained a Bachelor of Science Business Administration with an emphasis in Marketing and Finance from Chapman University.
