Professional Community Management of California, Inc. combats hunger with holiday food drive

Campaign will collect food for Second Harvest Food Bank of Orange County

LAKE FOREST, Calif. (Dec. 3, 2009) – Professional Community Management of California, Inc., one of the nation’s largest managers of homeowner associations, is holding a holiday food drive to fight hunger and benefit the Second Harvest Food Bank of Orange County. The campaign will begin Nov. 16 and end on Dec. 23 and will assist in feeding 220,000 people during the holiday season.

The following food items are a top priority for collection: canned meats, canned fish, beef stew, chili, pasta, macaroni and cheese, canned fruits and vegetables, rice, beans, canned juices, hot and cold cereals, soup and peanut butter. The food bank is also in need of personal care items such as diapers, toothpaste and toothbrushes, deodorant, toilet tissue, razors, Q-tips, soap, band-aids, combs and brushes, and feminine hygiene items.

Donations to this drive are tax deductible. Bins for donation items are in all buildings on PCM headquarters. Monetary donations, including checks made payable to Second Harvest Bank, should be forwarded to chief financial officer of Second Harvest Bank, Michelle Burge.

“For 35 years, PCM has partnered with local charities to assist those in difficult circumstances,” said Donny Disbro, chief executive officer for PCM. “We recognize today’s economy has increased the need for aid, and we are committed to providing both financial support and time to organizations on the front lines fighting hunger and homelessness.”

PCM supports many other charitable organizations in Southern California including: United Way; Saddleback Memorial Hospital; City of Hope; Orangewood Foundation; The Salvation Army; Saddleback Valley Outreach; Toys for Tots; Laguna Woods Philharmonic; various Orange County high schools; South County Regional Chamber of Commerce; South County Senior Services; Laura’s House Home Aid’s Project Playhouse; Orange County YMCA; Saddleback Kiwani; Boy Scouts of America, Orange County; Southern California high school education and athletic Programs; Back Bay Therapeutic Riding Club, Inc.; Florence Sylvester Memorial Senior Center; The Orange County Vikings; Harvest Food Bank of Orange County; and Dana Point Turkey Trot.
