Professional Community Management of California, Inc.
Continues Campaign for Orange County United Way

LAKE FOREST, Calif. (November 22, 2010) – Wearing t-shirts that read, “We Get It Done,” two teams of employees – including the CEO’s mom, Bonnie Disbro - from Professional Community Management of California, Inc., (PCM) delivered donations and helped assemble Thanksgiving baskets at Families Forward in Irvine.

“Our recent Orange County United Way campaign inspired such strong community spirit that we wanted to continue our support by going out and putting in some sweat equity to help provide food baskets to 700 families who would otherwise not enjoy the Thanksgiving holiday,” said Donny Disbro, Chief Executive Officer of PCM. “I’m very proud of our PCM family who took it upon themselves to organize the campaign, solicit donations and organize carpools. They truly understand the spirit of giving and made it happen.”

Last month, PCM held a company-wide fundraising campaign, “Cruisin’ for a Cause” to benefit Orange County United Way, which also supports Families Forward. By partnering with more than 50 vendors who generously donated prizes, as well as sponsoring company gatherings and fun-filled events, PCM raised donations estimated to exceed $30,000. Since 1998, PCM has raised approximately $380,000 for Orange County United Way.

“I had an awesome time,” said Sushelle Neuenfeldt. “It’s always a great feeling to give back to the community knowing that the little gesture we gave means a lot to the families that will receive the food.”

“Companies like PCM have my admiration and respect for staying the course with their charitable giving during these tough economic times. The funds PCM’s team of dedicated employees raise allows Orange County United Way to help those who are in crisis get back on a path to self-sufficiency. For this we are eternally grateful,” beamed Maria Chavez Wilcox, President and CEO of Orange County United Way.
