VP Jim Fraker of Professional Community Management of California, Inc. Honored for Service

Vice President of San Diego North County Management Recognized by the San Diego chapter of the Community Associations Institute (CAI)

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (December 7, 2010) – Professional Community Management of California, Inc., proudly announced that Vice President of San Diego North County Jim Fraker was awarded the 2010 Committee Member of the Year and 2010 Samuel L. Dolnick Lifetime Achievement Award by the San Diego chapter of the Community Associations Institute (CAI). He serves on the board of directors of the organization.

“These awards recognize Jim’s leadership and excellence in our industry,” said Donny Disbro, chief executive officer of PCM. “He and his team in San Diego dedication to service and innovation have fueled our company’s growth across Southern California.”

Fraker has been a member of PCM’s management team since 1986 and has managed PCM’s Carlsbad office for over 20 years. He is responsible for overseeing and training management activities in the San Diego North County Office.

A respected member of his profession, Fraker has earned the distinguished credentials of Professional Community Association Manager (PCAM) from the Community Associations Institute (CAI) and Certified Community Association Manager (CCAM) from the California Association of Community Managers (CACM).
