DONNY DISBRO APPOINTED TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS
ORANGE COUNTY CHAPTER OF THE BUILDING INDUSTRY ASSOCIATION OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

PCM's Chief Executive Officer says current market offers perfect time for property management growth and influence

LAKE FOREST, CA., (November 7, 2011)—Professional Community Management of California, Inc. (PCM), one of the nation's largest property management firms, announced today that CEO Donny Disbro has been reappointed to the Board of Directors of the Orange County chapter of the Building Industry Association of Southern California.

As analysts report that home sales are expected to languish through 2015 and new communities are slowing or cancelling build-outs, it has been a tough market for the industry. According to Disbro, this is an opportunity for property management companies to provide leadership and insight into what future home buyers will want and need when the market rebounds.

"Our chapter of the Building Industry Association of Southern California has benefitted from Donny's leadership and expertise in the ways that the property management industry supports the brand equity of communities and their respective builders," said Chris Haines, division president of Southern California and Southern Nevada at The Pulte Group, and a member of the Association's the Board of Directors. "Donny has the insight into what prospective buyers want in their new communities, which is extremely valuable in this market."

In recent months, PCM has seen increased growth by signing management agreements with Park Paseo Irvine (one of the city's largest HOA communities) and Irvine Company's Stonegate and with builders such as Pulte Group in Nevada and KB Homes in the Inland Empire.

"PCM has long standing partnerships with the leading builders in Southern California," said Disbro. "By working together, we continue to drive growth in our industries and deliver value to homeowners and home buyers."

With 14 years of industry experience, Disbro brings extensive knowledge of transitioning developer/builder board-governed communities to homeowner-governed communities. Disbro holds a Master of Business Administration and a Bachelor of Science Business Administration with an emphasis in Marketing and Finance from Chapman University.
